When: July 8, 2025, at 6pm

Where: City Council Room- 6 Church St. Gardiner

The City of Gardiner had proposed a Zoning change to the Libby Hill Rd./Weeks Rd area from Rural (R), to Residential Growth RG. After an informational meeting with a group of property owners, the City decided that zoning requirements, specifically dimensional requirements, should be changed as well.

The proposed requirements change would only minimally affect the properties already zoned as RG. The areas identified currently as Rural would see adjustments to setback, road frontage and density requirements.

Please see the attached maps, showing the areas that would be affected by the changes, and also information provided by Kris McNeill- Code Enforcement Officer.

If you have any questions, please feel free to contact the Planning and Development Department.

To: City Council:

Planning Board has voted to send the Zoning Change of the Libby Hill road area to Council with the recommendation to pass. The intention is to rezone areas identified as Residential Growth(RG), a zone that currently exists in the City and which more closely describes the existing conditions found in the Libby Hill Road Ordinance Review Committee and the Planning Board have met with abutting property owners to answer questions. Along side this rezoning, the dimensional requirements will be amended for Residential Growth. ORC and PB agreed that a change to the maximum density allowed in the RG Zone from 7500 square feet per dwelling to 40,000 square feet per dwelling would be beneficial. This change will have very little effect on the properties currently zoned as RG, but it will reduce the overly restrictive setback requirements on Libby Hill Road. It will also make the minimum lot size, and road frontage requirements fit what is in existence at this time. This change will still increase the allowed density in the area, but much less that was proposed before.

If you have any questions about this change, please feel free to call or email me.
